P.T.A. PUBLICITY: (by Dorothy Radoff)--

In order to promote the welfare of children, the Brisbane P.T.A. approved the following resolutions at its recent meeting: (1) to hold a Penny Carnival on Halloween. "The main object is to keep our children off the streets and give them enjoyment at a low price", stated Mrs. Milton Jensen, Brisbane P.T.A. president. (2) To donate food to the Cub and Boy Scout Carnival, to be held June 14th, at the Brisbane School, and (3) to ask the new local theater manager to present better movies for children on Saturdays. This request was made by Mrs. William Wipprecht, movie chairman. Highly commended for the Folk Dancing Spring Festival held recently at Brisbane School was Miss Olivia Fisher, 7th grade teacher. Miss Fisher, who devotes her lunch period to teaching folk dancing to the students, was presented with a corsage by Mrs. Jensen. Members voted not to have the association have a booth at the Community Western Days. Mrs. Monte Rice's 8th grade won the parent's attendance banner. Leading the pledge was Mrs. E.R. Whitsen. The character thought was read by Mrs. Larry Holmberg. Mrs. Jack Sullivan was hostess. Principal speaker was authoress Marion Garthwaite, who's "Tomas and the Red Headed Angel" won the Julia Ellsworth Ford Award and the Commonwealth Medal. This was the final meeting of the Brisbane P.T.A. for this school term--until next Fall.

LIKE IKE? VOTE FOR WARREN!

If you're for IKE; 1--don't write in his name on the primary ballot. Write-ins are illegal in California, and will invalidate the ballot; 2--Vote for the Warren delegation. This advice comes from County Clerk John Bruning, and from Harry Hutchins, chairman of the San Mateo County Eisenhower Volunteers, who said the "Vote for Warren" strategy has been announced by the state organization. In California, voters must choose between the Warren delegation and a slate nominally pledged to Congressman Verdell. A majority of the Verdell slate is pro-Taft. The Volunteers are conducting a membership drive that will continue through May 29th.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS, TUESDAY, JUNE 3RD!

10 YEARS HONORABLE LEGISLATIVE SERVICE

AN OPEN LETTER FROM JUDGE CHARLES BECKER

TO THE VOTING CITIZENS:

As a candidate for the new Municipal Court, I, JUDGE CHARLES BECKER, am grateful to the Editor of this newspaper for this opportunity to bring directly to the people the whole story and true facts concerning this new Municipal Court, and my qualifications to preside as the first judge of this new court for the Northern District of San Mateo County. At the general election in 1950, the people adopted a constitutional amendment reorganizing the lower court system throughout the state, and by their overwhelming vote they made known their desire to have this change. As a result, San Mateo County was divided into three Municipal Court Districts; the Northern, with one judge; the Central, with one judge; and the Southern, with two judges. The purpose of this change, so far as the Northern District is concerned, was to abolish all of the part-time Justice of the Peace and City Courts, and replace them with a full-time Municipal Court with a much higher and broader jurisdiction.

Under the Municipal Court system, all of the new Municipal judges must be lawyers, and must have had at least five years' experience in the practice of law before election. This is a considerable change over the present Justice of Peace and City Court system. In order to permit the Municipal Court judges to perform their duties without the pressure of frequent elections, the judges of this new court will hold office for a six year term; therefore, so far as the Northern District is concerned, there will be only one judge to whom the people can submit their matters for a period of six years.

I have every confidence that my age, temperament, background, experience, and ability qualify me for this highly responsible office. I am 36 years of age, and was born in San Francisco, attending the public schools there. I graduated from Lowell High School, and found it necessary to go to work if I were to attain my ambition to become a lawyer. So I worked my way through university and law school, and was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of California and the Federal Courts of this District in 1941.

Since 1941, I have been actively engaged in the practice of law with such a sufficient variety of matters as to give me the necessary broadness of experience. I have represented both labor and industry; landlords and tenants; buyers and sellers; artists and agents. During World War II, I stood regular active watch, in uniform, on the San Francisco Harbor, as a member of the Volunteer Port Security Force. In Daly City, Mrs. Becker and I became active in local civic affairs, where I headed the Community Chest, Red Cross, and Cancer Fund drives of our locality, and organized the Westlake Unit of the P.-T.A.

Last year I was appointed City Judge of Colma, where I now serve as a part-time judge---the same as all of the other judges and Justices of the Peace in the district. Aside from a judge's age and experience---his temperament to act as a judge is of the utmost importance. These are the qualities which are inherent in a person---he must be born and raised with them, or he does not possess them, and cannot practice them. I am proud that my reputation as a man, and as a lawyer, vouches that those qualities are in me.

Also, as further evidence of my fitness, I refer to the fact that there has been only one official endorsement of the candidates for this office, where the background, age, ability, and experience of both candidates were considered---and I received that official endorsement. I refer to the endorsement by the Labor League for Political Education---which is the endorsing body of all A.F. of L. Unions in San Mateo County, and the importance of this endorsement lies in the fact that it required a two-thirds vote of all the delegates to the League.

Thanking you for your vote for me at the Primary Elections on TUESDAY, JUNE 3RD---I am,

Sincerely yours,

JUDGE CHARLES BECKER.

JUDICIAL

(BOCCI): A special press release by Richard Lyons, Northend attorney and campaign manager for Judge Thomas Bocci's election as Municipal Judge reveals that the three Superior Court Judges of this county have no inclination for Judge Bocci's opponent as was indicated in a release earlier this month. In an interview with the press, Richard Lyons stated that he had talked to each of the three Superior Judges, who informed him that they did not lean either way,--that, in fact, they did not know Judge Bocci's opponent--having met him for the first time within the past two months. Lyons further stated that one of the three Judges made mention of the fact that they were familiar with Judge Bocci's work in the First Township Court and know that he has carried on the work of the Court in a fair and highly dignified manner. Bocci could not be reached for comment, however, Lyons revealed that he expected to obtain a written declaration from the three Judges as to the truth of this matter. Lyons further decried the brazen efforts of Judge Bocci's opponent to mislead the public and to place the three Superior Judges in an unfavorable light.

Earlier in the week an effort was made by Judge Bocci's opponent to brand as false certain releases that attorneys most interested in this Court were not endorsing Judge Bocci. The fact of the matter is that a representative of every law office in the Northern District, with very few exceptions, have wholeheartedly endorsed Judge Bocci's candidacy for Municipal Judge. In addition, the list of attorneys include many others who reside in the Northend. Judge Bocci has not indicated at any time that he was endorsed almost unanimously by all the attorneys in the county and did not intend to mislead the public in this regard. Judge Bocci stated "One throw-away journal that purports to be a newspaper has colored my statements to indicate otherwise, as it has colored practically all of my statements so as to cast unfavorable reflections upon me. I wish only to state that I am prepared to meet any challenges with respect to these statements so that the public may know the truth

(BECKER): Backed by noted city and civic leaders, and endorsed by labor, Judge Charles Becker this week prepared to submit to the voters his final pledges in his candidacy for the new municipal court on the eve of next Tuesday's election. His election, given what observers say is near-certainty by the dramatic endorsement last week of Mayor Paul Green of Daly City, whose popularity as an individual and an official are called unequalled in San Mateo County, was forecast by veteran observers of local political races, many of whom are aligned with Becker's opponent.

Judge Becker's eleven years in the practice of the law, his mature balance, emotionally and mentally, and his wholesomeness as a private citizen and family man, have won him a legion of friends during the past two weeks of his strenuous campaigning. Thousands of voters have told Judge Becker and his supporters that they are going to vote for him as a result of having heard him discuss the new judgeship or of having been told by those who heard his talks, because of his forthright, honest, mature presentation of the facts....indicating they were going to switch from earlier, hasty intentions of voting for his opponent. Most of these voters--in Daly City, South San Francisco, and the other sections of the new judicial district--say a judge should be no younger than Becker's 37 years and have at least ten years in the actual practice of the law to qualify for this important court. Labor leaders said they gave Judge Becker their official endorsement because of his wide experience in handling the problems of both labor and management.

Mayor Green, serving his second term and held one of the most potent political leaders in the county, told Judge Becker he had arrived at his decision to support Becker's candidacy because he feels the new court should be filled by a man with extensive experience in the law and in public life. "My decision to support Becker, instead of his opponent, whom I backed two years ago, was made after weeks of observing both men in their campaigns," Mayor Green said. "I believe that Judge Becker displays the necessary abilities for this important post", he added.

STATE ASSEMBLY:

(CREEDON):--Backed by one of the largest citizens' campaign committees in county political history, the candidacy of Judge Daniel J. Creedon for Assemblyman in the newly created 25th district, today showed signs of sweeping the young city official into office with one of the largest majorities ever accorded any candidate on Tuesday, June 3rd. His record shows that there never has been a more popular public official than Judge Creedon. During his term as a San Mateo City councilman and mayor, his intelligent and fair consideration of city problems won him the respect of all voters. Two years ago when he ran for city judge, voters rewarded him with an unprecedented victory at the polls. Judge Creedon has been a leader in welfare and governmental activities concerning the whole county. His enthusiasm and untiring work toward making our county a better place in which to live has gained him the respect of all citizens. As a combat veteran of the South Pacific Judge Creedon learned to appreciate the seriousness of fighting for democratic freedom. A family man, homeowner, and taxpayer, Judge Creedon is interested in seeing that present run-away government spending is checked. As a family man, he is concerned over the crowded school conditions existing in certain sections of our county, and pledges that he will work toward correcting this serious problem. The disgraceful situation which has permitted almost "canland" conditions to exist in certain sections of our state, particularly in reference to the narcotic problem, will gain the immediate attention of Judge Creedon when he is elected assemblyman. Judge Creedon has coped with the narcotic situation during his term on the bench and he has compiled a list of necessary measures which should be taken to correct the appalling traffic in narcotics, particularly as it affects youngsters. Judge Creedon understands labor problems first hand. He has worked at a number of trades during his lifetime and is presently a card-carrying member of the Hod Carriers Union #97 of San Mateo County. A graduate of the local public schools, Judge Creedon studied for his law degree at San Francisco Law School. He is presently the Exalted Ruler of the San Mateo County Lodge of Elks, #1112. He is a member of the American Legion.

San Mateo County's two heavily favored State Assembly candidates at the polls next Tuesday are Richard J. Dolwin, the incumbent candidate in the 26th district, (south county) and Judge Daniel J. Creedon, who is expected to capture the Assembly post in the newly created 25th District (north county).

(GILMORE):--Mrs. Iva Tully of Daly City, who has had much experience in political campaigns, is the campaign manager for the return of Joseph P. Gilmore to the Assembly. "In accepting the chairmanship of the Gilmore campaign," she said, "I did so, knowing of Mr. Gilmore's outstanding record as Assemblyman--particularly in the welfare of our future citizens in supporting our school program, for a higher level of education and full time attendance of our school pupils. I do not believe any other candidate knows as much about the many problems of our district as Mr. Gilmore. We have no paid workers or elaborate campaign headquarters. All the men and women actively engaged in the Gilmore campaign are volunteer workers interested in good government." The District leaders of the Womens' Gilmore for Assembly Committee will meet this week to formulate plans for the closing week of the campaign. The District Leaders are Catherine Bitter, San Mateo; Mrs. A. J. Batteate, Hillsborough; Mrs. Lorraine Kelly, South San Francisco; Mrs. Walter Ricconi, Colma; Mary Reed, Westlake; Mrs. Frank Semeit, Bayshore; and Mrs. Ermina Mozzetti, of Brisbane.

Gilmore receives many endorsements. Some of which are; Labor League for Political Education, A F of L; California State Federation of Labor, A F of L; Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; Brotherhood of Railway Conductors; C.I.O. California Industrial Union; and Brotherhood of Eninomen and Firemen.

(JENKINS):--Thomas Jenkins, Democratic candidate for the state assembly, 25th District, recently cited his positive program as representative of his desire to assist county residents. The Broadmoor attorney, who is the official candidate of the San Mateo County Democratic party, is the only candidate to come out with a strong people's platform. Jenkins has pledged to support a state wide anti-narcotics educational program; development of freeways to ease present traffic problems in the county; construction of east and west highways to connect the Coastside with the rest of the county; and a more efficient social welfare program.

SENATE:

(SWEENEY):--Martin J. Sweeney, Democratic candidate for U.S. SENATOR, made a statement recently, claiming that too many promises are made without any action, one of which is, that the Bayshore Highway freeway has been under construction a long time and, according to information, it will be another ten years before this will be completed. He believes that the murder on Bayshore should be stopped now, and safety measures put into effect immediately, and asks that his plan be presented to the State Engineers, which would eliminate the left hand turns from the middle of Bayshore Highway, and make it safe to travel at all times and stop the mass murder of lives taken daily. This can be done very inexpensively--no need of floating bonds--but can be worked out in from ninety days to six months at the most. Mr. Sweeney will meet with any body of citizens interested in following this up, and urges that the people of San Mateo County and commuters get behind him and get action on this.

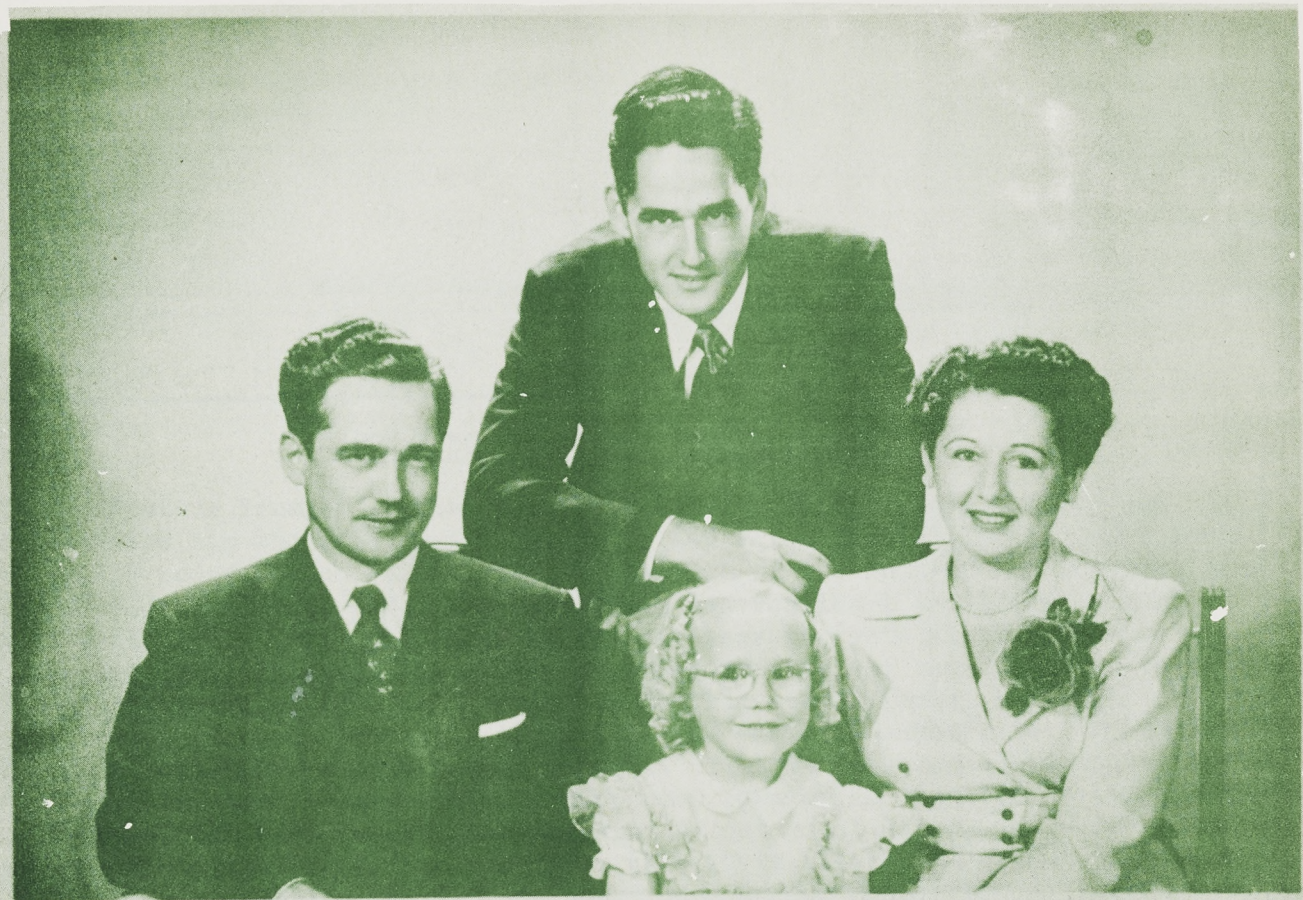

Mr. Sweeney has resided on the Peninsula for the past fifteen years--some of them in Brisbane--and has been associated in business for the past twenty one years, both in San Francisco, and on the Peninsula. He is a real estate broker, located at 2540 El Camino Real, Redwood City, and with his staff of expert salesmen, is carrying on a successful business. He is 43 years old--the father of two children, a son, Martin Jr., 19, and a daughter, Helen May, 6. Mr. Sweeney is a member of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce and Serra International. His hobbies are golf and raising pure bred collies. He is conscientious and a man of integrity. He has served in civic positions, and has always been interested in the advancement and protection of youth. He resides at 3324 Hoover Street in Redwood City, with his wife, Helen, and family. He belongs to the A F of L. Painters and Decorators, Local #510, of San Francisco.

(MCKINNON)--Congressman Clinton D. McKinnon, Democratic candidate for United States Senator from California, told a large group of Democratic leaders at a recent San Mateo luncheon that "the people of this country are enjoying the greatest period of prosperity in our history." In great part, the Congressman declared, the "forward-looking policies of successive Democratic administrations have brought this about." Pointing to the construction industry as a typical example of the great gains which have been registered over the years, McKinnon said, "Our own State of California has led the nation in the value of new construction every year since 1941. In 1950 the State's total included over one and a half billion dollars worth of new residential building." Advising his listeners to "look at their own situation and compare it with 1932, McKinnon added, "The average American nowadays has a stake in a home, a car, his children go right on through high school for the most part, and social security helps a lot when the years roll around, as they always do." On the other hand, McKinnon said, his Republican incumbent opponent has displayed "little or no interest in those bread and butter problems which are so important to all of us in our daily living."

CONGRESS:

(TAGGART)--George M. Maypole, retired State Senator from Illinois, who now resides in San Mateo, today endorsed Harold F. Taggart, Democratic candidate for Congress from San Mateo County. Senator Maypole, a veteran of 3 terms in the Illinois State Senate, who served as presiding officer of that legislative body for 8 years, said: "In all my 30 years of political experience, at a city, county, and state level, I have never before met a man who so completely possesses all of the requisite qualifications for service in the Congress of the United States. Taggart combines a warm friendliness with astute qualities of perception, which are so vitally needed in Washington. His background of military service in both World Wars furnishes a first-hand knowledge of the futility and horror of war. Taggart believes in preserving world peace by strengthening the United Nations and pursuing the principle of collective security."

CONGRESS (continued from Part III)

(YOUNGER):--"Arthur Younger's known record of honesty, efficiency, ability and experience makes him the outstanding choice as San Mateo County's first Congressman. It was stated today by Dan Minto, general chairman of the Younger for Congress campaign, who predicted victory for the Republican congressional candidate in next Tuesday's election. Urging San Mateo County citizens to "vote right this time", Minto stressed that "this election will determine whether our government is to be run by men of integrity and intelligence, or whether our citizenry must continue under the burden of heavy taxation, inflation, and wasteful expenditure of public funds". Minto pointed out that a vast majority of civic leaders and prominent residents of San Mateo County have actively supported Younger in his congressional campaign. "Younger has also received the backing of veterans, labor, and welfare groups throughout the county, who recognize that it is vitally important to have a man with Younger's speaking ability and background as our Washington representative", Minto said.

JEFFERSON-JACKSON DINNER LAST FRIDAY EVENING

San Mateo--May 26:--The "big debate" between U.S. Senator Kefauver and Atty Gen. "Art" Brown held last Friday evening in the San Mateo Co. Fiesta building exceeded all expectations, according to political observers who were present. In this struggle for California's 68 votes in the Democratic national convention which will be decided in the June 3 primary election, Kefauver and Brown launched attacks on each other that were marked by humor, mutual courtesy, and strong language.

A crowd of 302 Democratic leaders from six counties in the San Francisco Bay area alternately laughed loudly and applauded vigorously as the contenders for the important California votes scored telling blows. Kefauver called Brown's delegation "liberal" because Brown did not claim to be a real presidential candidate. He stated that the primary laws were specifically drawn up to prevent uninstructed delegations from being elected. Kefauver said the election of the Brown delegation would result in "smoke filled back room deals in Chicago which would rob the people of California of the rights which had been given them specifically in the primary election to choose their own presidential candidate." Pointing out that all the other Democratic presidential candidates had ample and equal opportunity to file in the California race, Kefauver said, "But they were afraid to do so and were afraid to have faith in the judgment of California voters." Calling attention to many newspaper stories and Brown's own statements, he added that, "I have run across many 'Stop Kefauver' movements which were claimed not to be 'Stop Kefauver' movements, but this is one of the strangest." Once, when a photographer's bulb popped loudly and startled the assembled group, Kefauver quickly said, "I thought 'Artie' Samish was out to get me". This drew a tremendous laugh.

Brown, in turn, called attention to the high calibre of men on his delegation, stating it would be to California's best interest to send Californians to Chicago to pick the best candidate. "The delegates on my ticket", he said, "are, in many cases, the same men who went to the national convention in 1948 and made the convention adopt one of the most liberal platforms in its history. They are all outstanding men in California who can be trusted to do what is best for California." Stating that he did not claim to be actually in the race for the presidency, Brown declared, "After the first ballot, my delegation can vote for anyone they choose."

"I hope Senator Kefauver will not consider the West less hospitable than the South", he said, "because of my attack on him. I wish him good luck except on June 3." Brown asserted he would work for anyone who won the Democratic nomination in Chicago, whether it would be Kefauver or anyone else. Kefauver's quiet, clear, eloquent address, and Brown's strong, impassioned talk, created vivid impressions on the audience. The debate took place at the Jefferson-Jackson dinner sponsored by San Mateo County Democrats under the leadership of Marion H. Kent, chairman, and Frank Rose, co-chairman. A notable ovation was given Harold F. "Tar" Taggart, Democratic candidate for Congress from San Mateo county. Others who spoke were Osborne Pearson, Asst Postmaster General of the United States, and Edward J. Reilly, County chairman of the McKinnon for United States Senator campaign.
